

Are We Allergic To Resistol Hats?

Since they moved in, neighbors have noticed sickening odors, smelling like dead animals. They have had colds that never go away, sore throats that often come and go and allergies they never had before, with headaches, coughing, sneezing, and itchy, watery eyes.

Pieces of fur come out of the vents at Resistol Hats. They collect on peoples' property and stick on peoples' clothes. They are floating in the air. We probably breathe them in.

Ugly bugs have been seen crawling from Resistol Hats across the street to our homes. People have found them both outside and inside their homes.

Let's do something about these problems! They threaten our health. We are also concerned about the long range affects they might have. Let's meet to decide what action we can take to rid our neighborhood of these health-threatening problems.
